ALLEGHENY MOUNTAIN EXCURSION

Postponement Until Tuesday, August 1948, 1879.

Owing to the great favor with which the announcement of an excursion to the Allegheny Mountains was received, and the unprecedented demand for tickets, the managers of the Pan Handle and Pennsylvania route were reluctantly compelled to restrict the sale of excursion tickets, for the 12th inst., to points west of Dennison, Ohlo, and postpone that part of the excursion from points east of Dennison including the P., W. & K. and Chartiers divisions, until Tuesday, August son, Ohio, and postpone that part of excursion from points east of Dennison including the P., W. & K. and Charliers divisions, until Tusaday, August 19th, 1879. The demand for tickets at Central Ohio points was so great that it was found impossible to make arrangements for the accommodation of such large numbers at Altoona, Oresson and other Mountain resorts. By dividing the excursion up in the manner indicated all can be comfortably accommodated. The plan adopted has received general approval, and all those whose arrangements were made for the excursion on the 12th inst., and others who will be ready at this time, will find that the programme advertised will be faithfully carried out on Tuesday, August 19th. The time schedule of the excursion train for Tuesday, August 19th, will be found to be even better and more satisfactory than the one of the 12th instant, inasmuch as Altoona will be reached carlier in the day, thereby enabling those who deaire to do so, to return to Pittaburgh the sam night. The trip to Lloydsville at the summit of the "Alleghenies" will be made to the excursion and Cresson for all who desire to remain for several days. Tickets will be good to return until Monday, August 25th.

BELMONT MILL.—The Directors of this mill met yesterday afternoon at the office of the Company on Water street. Considerable discussion took place on the future of the Company and the line of conduct it should adopt. The season is over for the purchase of ore and other commodities, and it appears that some little trouble is anticipated in procuring these as soon as they would like. They have, however, secured about 1,500 tons of ore from various points, as Pilot Knob, Mo, and at several points in Northern Ohio. Fifteen hundred tons of pig iron have also been secured, and this will be used as soon as work is begun. They also ordered soon as work is begun. They also ordered the finance committee to proceed to sell $100,000 in bondat par. The Directors then elected the following management of the 3100,000 in bondight par. The Directors then elected the following managers of the mill: General Manager, Nic Riester; Boss of the boilers, Frank Cline, of the Laughlin Mill: Manager of the Nail Factory, Samuel Whitesides; Head Blacksmith, Porter Smith; Chiel Engineer, Mike Healey; Boss of the Coal Band, L. Barum; Bookkeeper, A. Wilson, Jr.; Shipper, Alexander Gillespie. The managers to hire their own help. They also passed an order that any man leaving his work to go to a saloon would be discharged immediately, officer or employe. This order was ordered to be posted in the office of the mill and in the mill. Adjourned to meet at the call of the President.

Body RECOVERED.—Yesterday morning Body Recovered.—Yesterday morning about eleven o'clock persons on the Ohio shore discovered a body floating in the river near what is known as "Black Horse," and going out to it in a boat discovered that it was the body of Thomas Prince, jr., late clerk of the towboat Iron Valley. His father, who was in the neighborhood, was notified, and took charge of the remains. The body was disfigured in the following manner: One leg was badly broken, and his face was scratched and bruised considerably. It is supposed that he fell among the ruins of the boat, and as persons were at work about her yesterday ersons were at work about her yesterday the body was started down the river, and ound as above stated. Batchelor brought down two pieces of the exploded boiler found a quarter of a mile from the scene of the explosion, and left them on the wharf at this city, where they were visited by large numbers of people last night. Many conjectures were made from their appearance as to whether they were exploded from lack of water, but the most experienced say that this was the cause.

Belleview Hotel thought she detected the odor of burning wood in her room, and told her husband of the fact. He looked carefully over the building but failed to find any fire. He then went to bed, but his wife still noticing the odor was uneasy and did not retire. About 12 o'clock she aroused him and told him that there was certainly a fire, and upon looking out of the window a bright blaze was discovered in a box of charcoal outside of the kitchen, which soon promised to communicate to the building. RESIGNATION OF ARTHUR BROWNS.

RESIGNATION OF ARTHUE BROWNE.—
Arthur Browne. Superintendent of the Gas Works, handed in his resignation on Monday to Mr. C. P. Brown. President of the Board of Trustees of the City Gas Works. This information was first communicated to the reporters by Mr. Arthur. Browne himself, who made the following statement: "I was requested to hand in my resignation by C. P. Brown, in order to save myself the humiliation of a removal. He , however, told me that while there was no charge of my ever having taken a cent of the city's money, yet there was dissatisfaction as to the manner of letting certain parties use gas. I refer to putting a meter into the house of J. G. Smith while he was a trustee of the Gas Works. When I put his meter in he told me that he was not then prepared to pay for it. I told him all right, and charged it, as my books will show. This is also the history of one or two other cases, and in every instance were they charged. This, I was told, was nis meter in he told me that he was not then prepared to pay for it. I told him all right, and charged it, as my books will show. This is also the history of one or two other cases, and in every instance were they charged. This, I was told, was rather an irregular way of doing business, and hence the demand for my resignation. I was not disposed thus easily to resign, but yielded to the importunities of my wife and others, who could not bear the idea of a humiliating removal, and handed in my resignation."

Mr. George K. Wheat, one of the Gas Trustees, said that a meeting would be held this evening by the Board, at which time action would be taken in the matter. He had no doubt but that Brown's resignation would be accepted by the Board, He of course mersly reflected the opinions of the other members of the Board, as did also Mr. Browne when he stated what Mr. C. F. Brown had said to him.

The resignation of Mr. Browne was the occasion of a very slender report from the Investigation Committee last night to Council, from which Mr. Schultz dissented for the reason that he gave, "I do not want to be left," meaning that the adoption of this would leave them no recourse as to Browne in case of possibilities.

We were authoritatively informed that Dr. Reeves, chairman of the Committee of Investigation had a very lengthy and comprehensive report in his pocket, to be produced in case Council demanded something more explicit in the matter, but, this not being done it did not see the light. We tried to get a glimpee of this revelation, but the Doctor was not to be coaxed and we were compelled to abandon the attempt. We suppose that the Trustees will recommend a successor to Mr. Browne this evening. Meantime the mysteries of the committee are as impenetrable as ever.

"TRUTH lies in a nut-shell," and "brevity is the soul of wit." To be brief, when the shell is broken, the truth will be discovered, that the Grand Central Hotel, on Broadway, New York, now kept on both plans, the American $250 or $300, and the European $100 and upwards, per day, gives more satisfaction for the same money, than any other first-class house in Gotham. An elegant Restaurant, at moderate prices, is conducted by the Grand Central.

The engines on the steamer Iron Valley, which explodes Saturday, it is said, were on the steamer Peru some thirty years ago.

An item started by the Pittsburgh papers stating that the new Parkersburg packet of this city did not come up to the expectations of her builders, and that complete changes would have to be made in her machinery, has been pretty extensively copied by other journals. The item does not contain one particle of truth, and in justice to the builders of the boat we copy the following letter of Capt. John McLure, of this city, to the Pittsburgh Commercial Gazette in relation thereto:

Wiereling, August 8, 1879. norrow morning for Pittsburgh and St.

WHEELING, August 8, 1879.

I am informed that your journal has taken the liberty from some cause to do us the injustice to publish our new Wheeling and Parkersburg steamer Diurnal as a failure in her machinery, also in her running. I beg leave to correct the same. On her two short trial trips her engines personnel. ning. It beg leave to correct the same. On her two short trial trips her engines performed well in every particular, as did also the boat. Her boilers behaved rather bed in the boat. Her boilers behaved rather bed in the water fomenting, causing the same to flow to the cylinders, all of which will remedy itself in a short time. I claim for this boat one of the most complete passenger steamers for a short trade that has been built upon this river; her departments for comfort are not excelled by any boat of her class; her cabin departments will be conducted upon what is called the European restaurant plan; her dining saloon is upon the lower main deck aft, with all the departments belonging to the same. Her dimensions in size are 212 feet long, 30 feet 6 inches in beam, 4 feet in hold—built tight with fair model. Her power is three boilers, 33 inches in diameter, 26 feet long, five lap-welded flues; cylinders 4-feet stroke, 22 inches in diameter, double-slido valve, link motion, working Dillon & Lester's improved relief. Her wheels are 17 feet 6 inches in diameter; 13-feet 6 inch bucket, 24 inches wide, making with 110 pounds steam 30 revolutions per minute. Her draft of water, when completed, will be 24 inches. As regards her speed, I am assured from the short trial trips she has made that she will make better time, run faster, make her landings quicker, than any passenger steamer running to Pittsburgh. If this is not believed by steamboatmen, I can only say let the pitch in.

Very respectfully yours, Youn McLure.
